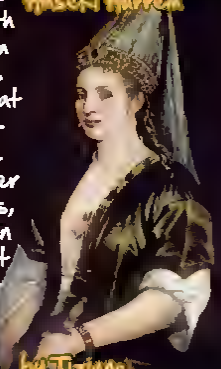
Learning With ZiCa and UminoKi!

Did you know that what we are taught in "western" culture isnt the same as in other countries? Suleiman I is known only by us as "The Magnificent" and for his own country and the rest of area, is called "The Lawgiver".

He married (ofc he had more wives) with one foreign girl from his harem who was red haired, trait that gave her the nick-name of Roxelana. He prefered her over his other legal wives, making her the main one, something that went against that time ways.



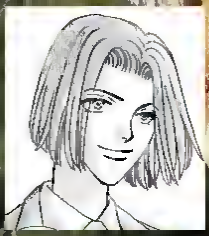
Roxelana or Haseki Hürrem

by Tiziano (our painter, so it seems!)

Suleiman I by who knows. Couldnt find the author.

She became very powerful inside the Empire court and politics, her children became the rulers over the other wives children. The reason to become so important was the love that she inspired in the Sultan, who even wrote her poems and fell into despair when she depart-ed before him.

In the manga Daniel is adressed to look alike the Sultan's wife, it must be due to his beauty and his red hair.



Our dear Daniel

As you see, the author takes care of details as this one, the signature you saw in previous chapters.

Signature of Suleiman

Suleiman life was filled with intrigue, jealousy, envy and betrayal. More than enough for a soap opera! That, of course, there are several.

Wanting to know more? Search for them as SULEIMAN THE MAGNIFICENT and ROXELANA. There's heaps more. NOW, COMING CHAPTER!!

* "The Reasonable Pirate" Dragut I made him out to be an enemy without equals Can Aciel defeat this man? I hope that this story will be able to unfold properly in the tense and stressful situations to come By the way, Dragut was a real life character, but of course, the role I gave him in Umi no Kishidan was one much more important than he was in reality Sorry... It's just cause I really like him

Reflected within Lucas' dark irises, lies only my reflection.
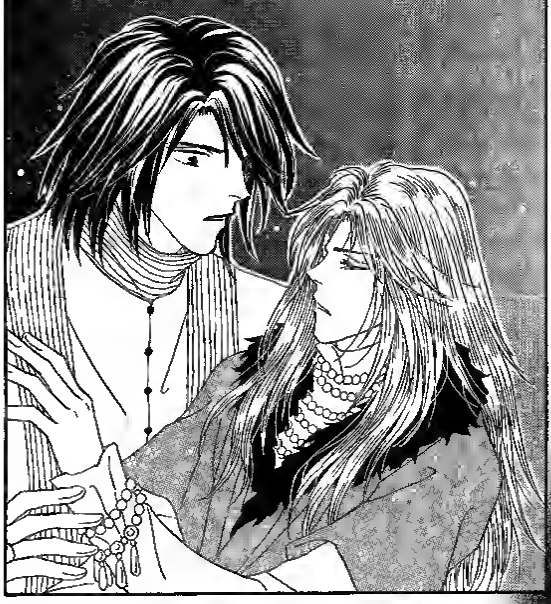
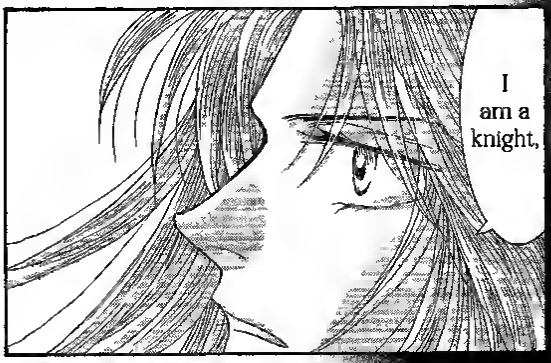
I have already fallen in love with you,
Aciel.
scene. 25
Eastern Kingdom 3

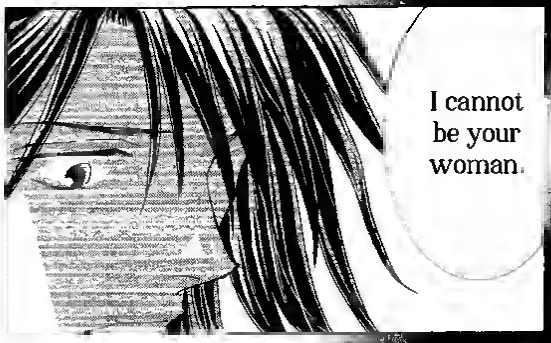
My whole body feels the unwavering sincerity of his love!
To be hugged so firmly like this, it feels so natural and peaceful.
Axel.
That's really great!
I really wish to become a knight!
I definitely must become a knight!
You're a girl.
If you do meet a boy who truly likes you, then you should just unambiguously date him!
But, but Lord Father!



Let go of me,



Lucas.



Yes
I know
This is the first time that I've been unequivocally rejected.
CLOSE!
I'm sorry,
I'm heading outside to cool my head
Lucas
Forget everything that happened today!
In 10 days' time, I'm going to have to duel Oragut to the death.
When that moment comes I might even lose my life

FWUUSH
Even if it might break Lucas' heart,
I wish to die as a knight.
I've been so completely rejected...
But..
Can I just give up on Aciel like that?
TMP
That you wander around as you want like this is troublesome for us.

You look awful
What's wrong, Syrian Lucas?
And...
In 10 days' time, he might even kill Aciel during the fight
The man who killed Aciel's father.
Dragut Reis
The fiercest pirate in the whole of the Mediterranean sea

Has something happened?
That's you who have been trying your hardest to avoid leaving Aciel's side, should choose to take a walk alone?
I want to find out...
You, do you love Aciel?
Please don't lie.
At that time, why did I smell the same scent that I associate with myself?

Ciel
is also my most beloved
You have way too many feelings
Hmmm that's true
Oh!
If I were to only see her as a woman, she is surely the one I have liked the most so far
Those are all the feelings that I presently have towards the princess

he he
To think that we would suddenly talk about love
Dragut,
I have something to ask of you please duel with me first.
Before your duel with Aciel, that is scheduled in ten days' time,

Is that alright?
Is this an attempt to protect his beloved lady?
Sure
The calm and solemn celebrated doctor,
Is giving off a quiet subtle murderous vibe.
Thank you, I am very grateful
Also, can we keep this matter from Aciel?
Of course,
If princess knows she would definitely prevent it from happening
Even if Aciel comes to resent me for this,
I still believe that this is for the best to ensure that Aciel continues to live!

TOC! TOC!

In order to prevent Aciel
from another brush with Death,
Even if I have to use my life in exchange,
I must kill that man,

I need to speak with you
Vizir Sokullu
Shall we?
Please
OPEN!

Lucas is back!
Coming, I'm just opening the door
Where is the dark haired knight?
He's gone for a walk,
he should be back soon
Tomorrow
The both of you are to visit Princess Mirrimah and to enjoy her hospitality
In that case you'll have to pass the news to him

Team Zica Credits: Zilvere scanned and checked quality.

Princess Mihrimah?
The very same princess who wanted to kidnap me...
The Princess was widowed the year before,when the First Vizir passed away, since then she has only been seen in mourning garb
If possible, please treat her gently, because the Princess is not a bad person
Are you saying that the one who wanted to kidnap me,
is a good person?
Then you, who are the Angel Michael,
should be smashing my skull
A calm soft smile rests on his face,
as if he intended to shoulder the totality of the Empire's sins,
Second Vizir
The person who had informed the Princess about you, thereby piquing her interest in you, is me.
I am the snake hiding in the grass

He possesses a rare aura of being unaffected by and aloof towards politics or material things
He completely understands the sins he has committed,
As if this man could just leisurely die at any moment,
You,
don't you wish to chase your own happiness?
But, you're right
I do have a dream
...
For example, to be able to engage in discourse with such a beautiful woman as you, grants me happiness akin to that of being in heaven
I have many different facets of happiness, Aciel

The Ottoman Turkish Empire has a way of ruling, via a micro military fashion
A bridge?
The micro-military way of ruling means that all Christians within the Empire must present their children, to loyally serve the country
The existence and fortunes of Turkey depends on conquering the large nations and many tribes
I want to build a bridge.
My home town is in Bosnia
I was originally a Christian like you
When I was young, I was taken away under the empire law and brought to the capital

Those of us who had abandoned the cross and converted to Islam had to work our hardest to rise in the ranks of the army or within the palace
Because if we could make a name for ourselves, our loved ones could breathe a little easier once they hear of us back in our hometown
When the Empire's dispatch brought me to Višegrad to board the boat, that scenery, that view, was one which I've never been able to forget
The Drina River which flows from the capital and its rushing waters has made it impossible to construct a bridge
My hometown Sokolović village is very impoverished. The contact between the village and the capital is completely cut off my mother was frantically waving her hands to send me off Bajic! Goodbye!
Goodbye Bajic!
And chasing behind the ship, with the water right up to her waist,
Stop sending me off!
Mum! Don't send me off!

So regardless of circumstances,
I always consider myself most fortunate.
However,
I have yet to accomplish that dream.
When I do make a name for myself, I will definitely build a bridge on that river
I will never ever forget it
My last memory of my mother, that pitiful image of her, all dripping wet...

Team Zica Credits: Andy poofreaded. Thank you!

After you
The Princess is inside waiting for you
Even the enemy has a family, and even love.
The motivating force behind this man,
is his love for his kin.
I will see the Princess

CREAK
the Maltese Knights have arrived.
Princess Mihrimah,
I finally get to see you,
Aciel.

I am the humble St John Knight's 9th Branch's Aciel Joan de Fréville.
I am here to pay my respects to Princess Mihrimah.
SHRIIIEEK!!..
Quiet, palace maids.
Scary!
Just like some otherworldly prince!
How can anyone be that beautiful!
How beautiful!
Lucas Erhard Von Wittlinger.
I too am from the humble 9th Branch,
Carola says Yes, Lucas' name changed a lil, that was better translated from japanese
SHRIIIEEK!!..
Please, will the palace ladies keep quiet?
Oh no! I can't turn my eyes away!
What a cool prince!
The one with the stallion-like hair is all very handsome!
Smooth flowing icy golden hair, a fine and slender silhouette, and a face which none can find fault with,
you are indeed as beautiful as the rumours paint you, Aciel.

It is really most unfortunate,
Why did you have to dress yourself up like a man and become a knight?
Aciel,
women don't have to wield swords to conquer the world!
My mother, Hurrem Sultan was one such person
She was taken into the palace as a slave, and yet managed to win the heart of my father, the king, and there after rose to the position of the queen
If you really wanted to, a single frown could conquer the heart of any king in this world.
When mother passed away, the throne remained empty, right up until today.
That is for you a most fantastic opportunity.
If you were to succeed in seducing father, the whole of the Turkish Empire could be yours.

Aciel...
If knights cast away their swords,
they lose the foundation of their soul.
And even if such a person obtains the world, there would be nothing to be joyful about.
My most beautiful Princess,, please don't say such shallow and false things to test me.
You are the most intelligent Sultan Suleiman's daughter, whatever you say should stem from your innermost thoughts and be only of the most lovely and honest sentiments

She's the real deal!
What a shock
This lovely creature before my eyes, is truly a real knight
That's right Aciel
To harbour the ill intention to attack the other in such a way as to test their reactions is indeed not a good thing,
I will take note of this in future

Aiyo, what now?
Please forgive my transgres sions
It cannot be helped,
I've already taken a liking to this child
